Legacy Gala Edition

TENNESSEE CHRISTIAN
Volume IV Issue XXIX

from the Head

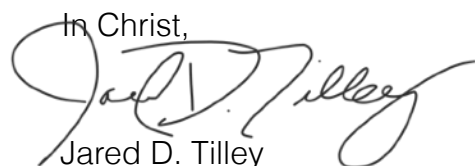

On the recent Thursday, members of the Cleveland/Bradley community came together to extend their support to Tennessee Christian through the 2024 Legacy Gala. I'm thrilled to report that it was an outstanding success. When considering the shift in name from the Presidential Celebration to the Legacy Gala, our aim was to underscore the profound impact the community has on the school. As I articulated during the event, a legacy isn't merely what one leaves behind, but what one builds each day. Throughout this year, I've been deeply moved and inspired by the generosity displayed by families within our community, who continuously contribute to the school through both their time and resources. The school has truly been enriched by the dedication of these families.

The evening commenced with a warm welcome from senior Isaiah Muñoz, setting a delightful tone for the event. It was a joyous experience witnessing the talents of the Upper School band as they performed worship music during dinner. Following the meal, a panel of seniors took to the stage for a discussion, reflecting on their experiences at Tennessee Christian and the invaluable role teachers and coaches have played in nurturing their leadership skills and spiritual growth.

At the Legacy Gala, we had the privilege of recognizing three families for their ongoing efforts in establishing a vibrant legacy for all students — past, present, and future — of Tennessee Christian. This year's honorees are as follows:

- 4th Person Award: Daniel and Sarah Barham
- The Spirit of Service Award: Dan Chord
- Brad Benton Business Leadership Award: Ron and Pam Barker

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all the sponsors and volunteers who made the event possible, with a special acknowledgment to Kristen Campbell for her tireless efforts in orchestrating an exceptional Legacy Gala.

In Christ,

Jared D. Tilley
